Bravo for Boston Brunch

More than 40 Boston-area alumni and friends attended the October 23 brunch at Bravo, the signature restaurant of the Museum of Fine Arts. President Julia M. McNamara, reporting on the State of the College in this 85th Anniversary year, offered these highlights: we are in a very strong position; prudent financial management has made possible another year free of long-term debt; we recently added two new master's programs—a Master of Fine Arts in Writing and a Master of Science in Human Services; and we are beginning a major renovation project to transform the interior of Rosary Hall into a vibrant, 21st century library and information commons. This is a time of renewal for Rosary Hall, a time of promise and of looking to the future, as it is for the entire College.
