Reunion 2012

Student Alumni Association

The Alumni Office will be facilitating the newest organization on campus for traditional undergraduate students this fall—the Student Alumni Association (SAA). Membership in this group will provide students with ample opportunities to meet, interact, network with and be mentored by alumni of the College. This bridge between students and alumni is a unique and sought after quality of student life that was not previously available to students at the College.

The SAA concept was introduced to the Albertus community in late spring, and a group of 20 students have already committed to membership for the fall semester. Of those 20, eight attended and participated in Reunion 2012 in June and found it to be an incredibly rewarding experience.

One of the major goals of the SAA is to help enhance school spirit through various activities and events and to spearhead a “Traditions” project by meeting with alumni to record memories of Albertus, reinstating traditions and creating new ones. They will also assist the Alumni Office in building a culture of philanthropy within the student body.

If you are interested in supporting the Student Alumni Association, we welcome alumni to serve as mentors, career role models, provide internships and other opportunities to help your fellow Falcons excel in the future. Our aim is to guide our students in the transition from undergraduate to alumni, while also providing and enhancing leadership skills. Please contact Stefanie Stevens at sestevens@albertus.edu or call 203-773-8519 for more information on how you can get involved.

Donna Sjogren '00 M.S.M., has stepped down as president of the Alumni Association Board of Governors. In this interview she looks back on ten years of service.

What prompted your interest and decision to get involved?

I knew I wanted to be involved in something at the College after getting my Master's degree as it had been such a great experience. I declined a teaching opportunity (needing a break from the classroom), and as things just happen, was introduced to Carolyn Behan Kraus from the Alumni Association. We talked about her vision for the future of the Board, and I said “Sign me up.”

What was your philosophy in working with the Board?

Just like any other volunteer organization, it's about finding the right combination of people who are passionate about working together toward the same goal. We are extremely proud of the Board, and when we search out new candidates for inclusion, our members take the vetting process very seriously. Everyone is an individual, bringing different experiences, talents and ideas to the table, yet meshing as a cohesive unit. These folks are tremendous people in their own right and do great work together. They are to be commended for their dedication to and love of the College.

What project gave you the most satisfaction?

Without a doubt, reinstating the induction of the new graduates into the Alumni Association as part of the Commencement ceremony has to be the most gratifying. From that moment on, your status changes from being students to becoming part of “the club”—you're now alumni of Albertus Magnus College. I think it's important for not only the graduates to know it, but for their families and friends to hear it formally proclaimed at Commencement. That transition is a moment of great pride and everyone should share in the joy at the moment it happens.

What did you find most challenging?

It's always a challenge to come up with ideas for speakers/presentations or events which we hope will draw our alumni back to campus. Obviously not everything appeals to everyone, and as the population of the College continues to change and grow, our offerings have to reflect those changes. The Alumni Association today is much different from the Alumni Association of 50 years ago.

Ten years is a long time to be president of a board. What kept you going?

The opportunity to work with and meet so many wonderful people, and wanting the Board to reach the level of development we envisioned for it back in 2002, which it has.

What's next for you?

I'll continue to serve on the Board as immediate past president for the 2012–2014 term, acting in more of a mentor/guiding capacity for the new Executive Board.

Alumni Association Board of Governors for the 2012–2014 Term

Voted into office at Reunion 2012, this dynamic group works directly with the Office of Alumni Relations on new and exciting programs for alumni. If you are interested in becoming involved as a potential Board member, please contact the Office of Alumni Relations at 203-773-8502 or email alumni@albertus.edu.
